A Great Offer.

The JOURNAL has made arrangements with the New York Tribune whereby it can furnish that paper and the JOURNAL for a whole year for $1.15 in advance. This is the greatest offer ever made by a newspaper in the county and is done to quickly increase our subscription list. We reserve the right to withdraw the offer at any time.

Protect our people from "perfidy and dishonor" by the immediate enactment of a Tariff for Protection.

Now that the relief of the twelve hundred starving Americans in Cuba has been attended to, let us have equally prompt relief for the tens of thousands of unemployed American wage-earners who have not the means wherewith to provide food for themselves or their families, and who are prevented from securing work by Europe's industrial invasion of our markets under the Democratic Free Trade Tariff. Give them immediate protection.

The final quietus is put in lotteries by section 10 of the Dingley tariff bill, which absolutely prohibits the importation of tickets from abroad. The postal laws of 1890 eradicated domestic concerns of chance, but foreign lottery tickets continue to come in through the express companies, and as long as they were kept out of the mails the government was powerless to confiscate them without laws which could virtually legalize the business. Under the Dingley bill, however, a heavy fine and imprisonment is relied upon to prevent the smuggling of tickets and the business is thought to be killed.

The New Fish Law.

SEC. 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Indiana that it shall not be lawful to take, catch or kill any fish in any of the waters of this state, except Lake Michigan and the Ohio river, and also any private pond, by means of any spear, seine, or pond net, gill net, dip net or other kind of net trap or set line, or to kill or destroy any fish by means of dynamite or other explosives or compounds or substance, or by the use of Indian cockle, fish berries or any substance which has a tendency to stupefy or poison the fish; or to take, catch, kill or destroy any fish in any manner whatever except with a hook and line, which line shall be held in the hand or be attached to a pole or rod which is held in the hand, and no line shall be used which has to exceed three hooks attached thereto. That the provisions of this act shall not apply to the taking of minnows for bait with seine not to exceed twelve feet in length, the meshes of which seine shall not be less than three-fourths of an inch.

SEC. 2. Any person who shall be found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this act shall be found guilty of misdemeanor and shall be fined in any sum not less than $5 and not more than $500.

SEC. 3. All laws and parts of laws in conflict with any of the provisions of this act are hereby repealed.

NEW LINE.

"Monon" May Have a Lively Competitor for Cedar Lake Business.

Citizens of Hammond, Crown Point, and, in fact, a number of other towns in Northern Indiana, will take no little satisfaction in learning that in all probability, the Monon railway will not be "the whole thing" this summer in the matter of Cedar Lake business as it has been in the past, during which time, knowing that its road is the only one running to the well-known resort, it has, like other great monopolies, seen fit to have pretty much its own way about everything.

Plans are now on foot by which the Erie and Panhandle Railroad companies will construct an electric line between Crown Point and Cedar Lake, and it is safe to say that upon fruition it will command the entire patronage in that part of the county as well as draw a large percentage of that which would come from the extreme northern portion.

The Monon people are said to be building a $70,000 park at the lake, but the Erie and Panhandle lines, it is said, go them one better and establish a recreation spot and resort which will far surpass anything of the kind in the state. This, too, will be welcome news to all patrons of the beautiful summering place.

A little healthy competition is said to be an excellent stimulus and the present case cannot be called an exception. At the present time the Monon has, to use the vernacular of the politician, a veritable "lead pipe citch" on the business to Cedar Lake, but it would not be at all surprising were the Monon to have another competitor from this part of Lake county before many moons have waxed and waned.

It comes from reliable sources that the Erie and Panhandle will at once begin the construction of an electric line from Crown Point to Cedar Lake, and it is expected to have the road completed within thirty days after the first tie is laid.

A Pointer for Rensselaer.

The Central Cycle Manufacturing company, of Indianapolis Ind., makers of the Ben Hur bicycle, find their rapidly growing business demands larger floor space and are open for propositions from cities or individuals for the removal of their plant to some suitable location. The company employs about 800 men and has an output of about 10,000 bicycles per year. They will be obliged to get new quarters this fall, and before making arrangements in Indianapolis would like to hear from anyone interested in other locations where a satisfactory inducement can be offered.

This is a reliable company, who manufacture a high grade wheel and one that is well known. Rensselaer could probably get this company to locate here if proper inducements were offered. It would be worth trying for, at least. Here is where a board of trade would come in handy.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed, when the languid exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the need of a tonic and alterative is felt. A prompt use of this medicine has often averted long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, indigestion, constipation, dizziness yield to Electric Bitters, 50c and $1.00 per bottle at F. B. Meyer's drug store.

What Our Neighbors Say.

The Rensselaer Journal comes out this week under its new management. It resembles a newspaper again, and before it has been under Bro. Clark's management long it will be a hummer.—Hammond Tribune.

The first copy of the Rensselaer Journal, successor to the People's Pilot, with Leslie Clark publisher, reached our tables Friday. The Journal is Republican in politics and a clean, newsy journal, deserving of all success.—Kentland Democrat.

The Rensselaer Journal is on our dissection table, and we can justly say that it is a vast improvement over its relict. It is run on the independent order, and we hope it will meet with better success than the late Pilot, and we have no doubt that it will receive the encouragement from the citizens of Rensselaer that is justly deserved.—Brook Reporter.

The first copy of the Rensselaer Journal reached us last week, and we pronounce it as handsome and well edited a county paper as can be found in Indiana. Its editor, Leslie Clark, learned the art of type setting in Rensselaer, and was the manager for several months of the People's Pilot, which paper recently suspended publication. This gives Rensselaer two exceptionally good weekly papers and we believe the field will support them admirably.—Brook Reporter.

The Rensselaer Journal has succeeded the Pilot, with Leslie Clark as publisher. It is well edited, neatly printed and republican in politics.—Monticello Press.

There is a new Republican paper at Rensselaer, the first number of which was issued last week under the name of the Rensselaer Journal. It succeeded the People's Pilot which "winked out" the week before. Leslie Clark is the publisher and the paper preaches the doctrines of the Republican party.—Delphi Journal.

The Rensselaer Journal is on our table. It is the successor to the Pilot and is a bright and newsy sheet and will advocate the cause of Republicanism. Leslie Clark is the editor and, from the make up of the initial number, we are convinced he understands the work.—Fowler Era.

Marvelous Results.

From a letter written by Rev. J. Gunderman, of Dimondale, Mich., we are permitted to make this extract: "I have no hesitation in recommending Dr. King's New Discovery, as the results were almost marvelous in the case of my wife. While brought down with pneumonia succeeded lagrippe. Terrible paroxysms of coughing would last hours with little interruption and it seemed as if she could not survive them. A friend recommended Dr. King's New Discovery; it was quick in its work and highly satisfactory in results." Trial bottles free at F. B. Meyer's drug store. Regular size 50c, and $1.00.

CLASS OF '97.

Graduate With Honors Last Thursday Evening.

The Commencement of the Rensselaer High School was held at the opera house last Thursday night. An admission fee was charged at the door, but the house was crowded, notwithstanding, with an audience that was evidently deeply interested in the class and proud of the Rensselaer schools.

The stage was beautifully decorated with the class colors, blue and white, and with cut flowers and growing plants in bloom.

The Citizens' band opened the program with an appropriate selection, and the exercises throughout the evening were interspersed with instrumental and vocal selections.

The graduates were seven in number, four girls and three boys.

Their names and subjects follow: Grace Thompson, "Two Heroines"; Manda Hayes, "Mission of Difficulties"; Clara Parker, "The Truly Great"; Pearl Blue, "Social Position of Women"; Frank Kelley, "What shall the High School Graduate Do?"; Albert Marshall, "Indiana's Natural Resources"; Hayes Young, "Cuba."

The graduates handled their themes very creditably and in a way that showed original and careful thought. On behalf of the school board E. L. Clark presented the diplomas to the graduates. Dr. Utter closed with the benediction.

And Still They Come.

Louis Davison contributed to our subscription fund Monday. Oscar Hauser has renewed his subscription for another year. Thanks.

S. S. Henderson, the hustling gasoline man, is a new reader of the JOURNAL.

James Donnelly gave us a call Friday and boosted his subscription up to '98.

Uncle Charley Platt, that whole souled fellow, has ordered the JOURNAL to be sent to him weekly.

Philip Blue, mine host of the Makeever House has ordered his name placed on our growing list of subscribers.

J. F. Osborne, the lumber dealer of Francesville, has ordered the JOURNAL sent to his address for a year.

Thos. Knight dropped in to see us Saturday while in town, and, incidentally, left a little cash on subscription.

Geo. R. Dickinson, of near Remington, was in town Saturday, and while here made us a donation of a dollar for a year's reading matter.

Our good old Irish Democratic friend, Sylvester O'Mera, dropped a dollar in the slot Monday, and ordered the JOURNAL sent to him regularly.

Another Excursion.

The Monon will run another of its popular excursions next Sunday, this time to Cedar Lake. The train will pass Rensselaer at 9:25 in the morning and returning will leave Cedar Lake at 6:30 in the evening. The fare for the round trip will be only 75 cents.

Will Dispose Justice.

The county clerk drew the following petit jurors Monday, who will serve at the June term of court. They are asked to report for duty next Wednesday. There will be no grand jury drawn for this term of court. The petit jurors are as follows: W. R. Bull, Joseph Sparling, John W. Mariatt, Marion I. Adams, Lee Glazebrook, Bruce E. White, Benjamin Barger, Nelson Randle, John Q. A. Lamborn, Wm. Grube, Henry O. Harris, Ed. M. Green, Charles Bartee, Abner C. Panoast, John Shroyer, Harrison Warren.

Wants a Divorce.

Halda A. Godfrey has brought suit for divorce from her husband, D. M. Godfrey. The suit was commenced in the Newton circuit court and comes here on change of venue. The plaintiff is fifty-five years of age and the defendant is sixty-five. They were married in 1893 after a short courtship, and this is not their first venture in the matrimonial line. Mrs. Godfrey accuses her husband of about everything mean under the sun that it is possible for a man to do.

A Few Staid at Home.

Two hundred eighty-five tickets were sold from this point to Chicago last Sunday on the seventy-five cent excursion. The train was an hour late when it reached here but arrived in the city at one o'clock. The train consisted of eleven crowded coaches. Another train load from the south end of the road pulled through here early in the morning, but did not stop.

The excursionists from this city arrived home at three o'clock the next morning, thoroughly tired out.
